HEALTH INSURANCE

Health insurance is a requirement of the University and is a necessity in the U.S.A. because of the very high cost of healthcare. All students will be automatically charged for the NYU sponsored Comprehensive Insurance Plan upon registration for classes. Students remain enrolled in that plan unless they complete the waiver process before the appropriate semester deadline.

Students have an option to:

- Waive the NYU sponsored plan if they maintain other insurance coverage that meets the University’s minimum health insurance criteria, or
- Downgrade their coverage to the Basic Plan. Students may only opt to downgrade coverage when first registering for the academic year.

To avoid being obligated to pay for two health insurance plans, students should not purchase another health insurance plan before their waiver request is approved. The waiver will not be processed until the Student Health Insurance Department confirms that the student’s insurance plan meets the University’s requirements. More information on Health Insurance policies can be found here.

**Please note incoming exchange students who are not on a J1 visa are not eligible for NYU Health Insurance and should seek coverage from their home school or a private health insurance company.*

ADVISING

MBA International Programs offers academic advising to all exchange students.

STUDENT CLUBS

Stern has approximately 40 student-led professional and community clubs. Exchange students are encouraged to participate in these associations during their semester at Stern.

The Stern Office of Career Development provides limited career assistance to exchange students during their semester at Stern. Services include walk-in career coaching appointments, access to Career Account, which includes off-campus job postings, and access to the Career Resource Hub. Students are also permitted to attend the MBA career fair in the fall or spring semester.

International exchange program students do not have access to recruiting services, on-campus corporate presentations, the alumni contact system, interview facilities, and the NYU Wasserman Center for Career Development.

COMPUTER SERVICES

All full- and part-time MBA students and incoming undergraduate students are required to have a notebook computer. Stern strongly recommends that incoming exchange students own a computer with Internet capability.
